

Model scout Noel dons a pair of killer heels to demonstrate the perfect catwalk sashay

By Laura Butler

TOP model scout Noel Sutton has no problem donning stilettos to show budding Irish models how to strut.

Noel took to the catwalk with a pair of red heels and demonstrated the perfect catwalk sashay.

Taking a leaf out of America's Next Top Model star Miss J Alexander, Noel showed he had no problem showing the girls what was required for catwalk perfection.

STRUT

The scout gave a masterclass in how to take on a diva walk in the last stages of the Dublin Fashion Week, 103FM and The Dubliner magazine's model search.

Scores of girls handed in their applications for the model search on Friday.

Modelling bosses Jules Fallon and Noel Sutton, of 1st Option modelling

WALK THIS WAY: Noel Sutton, left, in his skyscraper red heels, shows a would-be model how to cruise the catwalk and, above, judges the results at competition

agency, spent the weekend whittling down the list to 10 finalists.

Yesterday, the finalists made their way back to Fashion HQ on Dawson Street for the final, which was compered by Off The Rails host Sonya Lennon.

And as part of the final, Noel donned red heels and showed the girls how to strut with confidence.

GOODY

The winner will be unveiled in The Dubliner magazine next week, which will feature her first cover shot.

The lucky winner bagged a three-year modelling contract with 1st Option Model Management, a front cover shoot for The Dubliner magazine, jewellery worth €600 from Pandora and an A-Wear goody bag.

hnews@herald.ie

