

Dublin Fashion Festival returns

THE second annual Dublin Fashion Festival is taking place from 8th to 11th September celebrating all that is great about style.

Hosted by this year's Face of the Festival, Sonya Lennon, the Dublin Fashion Festival is the brain-child of Dublin City Business Improvement District (BID).

Over the course of the weekend, a range of events will take place in this year's fashion HQ, in the old Waterstones building on Dawson Street; including live fashion shows, styling workshops and intimate talks and interviews with top Irish fashion industry experts.

Sonya Lennon, will MC the fashion shows and host a makeover master class.

Participating stores, bars, restaurants and hotels throughout the city will run special offers, competitions, in-store activity and much more.

The Dublin Fashion Festival is a free access event, so you can get your fashion fix free of charge and save your money to splurge in the shops.
