

Salvatore Santo from Il Vignardo, Warren Massey from L'Gueuleton in Hotel Isaacs, Tweesak Trakoolwattana from Saba and John Wood from Wilde – The Restaurant at The Westbury tempt Margaret Farrell with some of the delicious dishes on offer as part of Dine in Dublin

Capital dining at a discount

■ The Green Hen, Wilde – The Restaurant at the Westbury, L'Gueuleton and Gotham Cafe are among the restaurants taking part in this year's Dine in Dublin week, which starts tomorrow and runs until next Sunday.

This is the sixth year of the event, which offers diners set menus at discounts of at least 20 per cent on a la carte prices, and more than 50 restaurants are taking part.

Diners can choose from set menus priced at €15, €20, €25 or €30 per head including tea and coffee, and there's also a discounted evening parking rate of €3 available in selected Park Rite car parks.

A full list of participating restaurants is available at www.dineindublin.ie.
