THE STYLE OF NIAMH LYNCH -
DUBLIN FASHION FESTIVAL INTERN

Look 1

Here I'm heading into the Blink PR office on the day of the Dublin Fashion Festival photocall. It's a fun and comfortable work outfit. I like the monochrome colour scheme of the patterned shirt from Urban Outfitters (I added the bow myself for extra detail), teamed with the black shorts and a bag from Topshop. The suede boots are a great mid-heel for during the day.

Look 2

This is a vintage-feel dress I bought in Om Diva a couple of years ago. The length of the dress, coupled with the bell sleeves, give it a real '70s feel. I then accentuated that with these '70s-look green platforms - it was perfect for a relaxing summer evening.

Look 3

Heading out to the Dublin Fashion Festival launch in the Westin Hotel. This sheer-ended skirt is a bit of a nod to the '90s! I used this bright orange top from Topshop, and tribal style belt to bring it a little more up to date. Some bright coloured bangles and a mustard and burnt red bag from Penneys tied it all together.

Look 4

Back to the '70s again with this look, which I wore for a friend's birthday. Colour-block trousers are a favourite trend of mine at the moment, so I teamed these bright purple skinny jeans with an even brighter multi-coloured top from Penneys. Sunglasses at the ready perhaps, but I tend not to be afraid of colour!

Look 5

At a barbeque in a friend's house. Here I'm wearing my Zara leather-look trousers and tan shoes from Office. My mustard T is from Topshop (I've got one of these in nearly every colour) and the hippy-esque waistcoat is from Penneys. My straw fedora I brought back from an amazing market in Bondi Beach, on a trip to Oz last year.

Look 6

This is just a really casual look. The '60s inspired jacquard print cardigan from A|Wear is one of my favourite purchases I've made lately. It's more of a 'jardigan', and was great for the ever-changing weather before the autumn! Trusty Cons' and jeans from Topshop completed the look.

Look 7

Heading out for drinks with my boyfriend. This leopard print dress from River Island ties in with the animal print trend for A/W 2011. The fringe bag from A|Wear has a bit of a tribal feel, which I love. The shoes from Topshop are surprisingly comfy and go with so many things.

Look 8

Out for a stroll in the Phoenix Park with Baxter. This slouchy 'boyfriend' shirt from H&M is perfect to throw on over jeans or shorts, and is great for a lazy Saturday evening. My red 'Peter Pan' boots, as I like to call them, are from Office and are super comfy. My gold Casio watch is from Urban Outfitters and goes pretty much everywhere I go.

Look 9

This slightly grungy dressed up look was for dinner with my sister and cousins. The leather-look skinny trousers are from Zara, which I dressed down slightly with a casual tank T-shirt from H&M. The scarf is from Penneys and the bag I bought on a trip to Milan earlier this year. These platform wedge shoes were from Korcky's.

Look 10

Heading to an outdoor gig in town in the summer. The blazer is from Zara and is great for smartening up a really casual look. I like teaming it with more casual pieces like this tank from H&M, my denim shorts from Topshop and my black Converse. Sometimes comfort is king!
