

White Door named Dublin Fashion Retailer of Year

CHRISTINE DOHERTY

JUST four months after opening its second store, The White Door has won Best Dublin Fashion Retailer of the Year at the Dublin Living Awards.

Owner, Jacqueline Horner-Sullivan, whose first shop is in Dunleer, is delighted with the achievement which she says is 'a true testament to a great idea, hard work, perseverance, a super team and inspirational leadership.

'I am overwhelmed with the support we have gotten in the run up to the Dublin Living Awards. I promise The White Door promises to live up to this Award!'

The White Door in Dunleer and Dublin's Exchequer Street are designer boutique concept stores that serve as one-stop-shops for exclusive fashion, both Irish and international brands.

Home to a myriad of premium clothing brands, giftware, accessories, homeware, childrens toys, and Zorina cosmetics, the stores are presented as a whole new concept.

'The White Door takes its inspiration from unique lifestyle boutique from New York, Paris, Italy and beyond,' Jackie says.
